RECEDING WATER UNCOVERS SCENE OF DESTRUCTION

Alabama Towns Suffer Heavy Losses In Floods

MANY HOMES ARE CARRIED AWAY

Life Losses Are Slight Latest Reports Indicate

Elba, Ala., March 18.—Graphic stories of thrilling experiences in flood-swept Alabama were related by refugees today as rescue workers at Elba, Geneva and other hard hit cities strove to restore conditions to a semblance of normalcy.

Visit to the stricken cities of Elba and Geneva revealed that the great havoc had been wrought and that property damage run up into millions of dollars, the loss of life would be negligible in fact. Ben Lee, 60, a Confederate war veteran, is the only known casualty in Elba, although several negroes were reported drowned here.

Lee died of heart disease as he saw his home floating down the flood waters of Pea river. At Geneva there is no loss of life so far as known.

Millions in Damage

Property damage at Elba, a city of about 2,000 population in Coffee county, was estimated between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. The property loss at Geneva, county seat of Geneva county with a population of 2,500, will probably total $4,000,000.

The greatest difficulty was experienced by reporters in entering the flood area. Highways were almost impassable.

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad and other roads in southern Alabama were virtually put out of commission by washouts.

Circuitous routes to traverse comparatively short distances became necessary. For example, to reach Elba from Dothan, Ala., a distance of about 40 miles, it was necessary to travel 120 miles over washed out roads.

Elba was a city of ruins and nearly all of its homes were demolished by the floods and while the receding flood waters revealed that the main public buildings were still standing, all of them were in a badly damaged condition. Water was still sweeping through the business district.

CALIFORNIAN TO FACE KIDNAPING

Abducted 5-Year Girl Is State's Claim; Woman Makes Rescue

Oakland, Cal., March 18.—Accused of kidnapping and child-stealing, David A. Barnett, wealthy San Leandro manufacturer, was scheduled to go to trial before Superior Judge Fred V. Wood here today.

Barnett is charged with attempting to kidnap 5-year-old Etoile Windelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Windelt, Jan. 16 last, when he is alleged to have enticed the girl into his automobile and have driven rapidly away.

Pursued by Mrs. Besie James, a neighbor, who saw the girl get into the car, Barnett drove for some distance before he finally let the child get out, it was charged.

Mrs. James got the number of the car and turned it over to police, who traced the car to Barnett.

Barnett later came into the office of B. A. Wallman, captain of police, and surrendered himself. He was released on $5,000 bail.

When he was arraigned before Superior Judge Fred Wood, Feb. 19, he pleaded not guilty.

Judge Wood, without warning to either Barnett or his attorney raised the bail from $5,000 to $20,000. Barnett has been confined to the county jail ever since.

The judge was also informed that Barnett had served three and one-half years in the Ohio state penitentiary for an offense involving a small girl.

FOCH CONDITION CONTINUES POOR

Marshall's Case Extremely Serious But Not Without Hope Is Doctor's Statement

Paris, March 18.—Marshal Foch's condition today was described as extremely serious but not hopeless. He was attended by three doctors this morning. They found that his pulse had advanced to 100. His temperature was normal.

The marshal's heart is not responding as well as it had hoped," said Dr. Degennes, one of those in attendance. "This condition is very serious but I would not consider it hopeless."

The aged veteran suffered a severe heart attack January 14. Kidney and lung complications followed. Last Saturday he suffered a relapse.

JUVENILES RAID SALEM GROCERY; DAMAGE AT $200

Revenge Seen As Motive For Actions of Two Boys

Two Salem juveniles broke into and entered the C. F. Tomlinson grocery and meat store Sunday morning, March 17, and caused damage to the establishment estimated by police at $200.

Both boys, together with a third, who was later called in by the young vandals, to assist them in hauling away gloves, paring knives, bars of soap, chewing gum, and miscellaneous other articles, are in custody of police today, and will be turned over to the probate court in Lisbon.

Sacks of flour were emptied on the floor of the store and electric fans scattered it throughout the establishment.

Crates of eggs were hauled to the second floor and rolled down stairs. Cans of tomatoes and other foods were emptied into a sugar barrel.

A barrel of molasses flooded the basement floor, after the spigot had been opened and left turned on, having leaked the molasses, and entered through a window. He admitted his partner through a rear window.

Neighbors, seeing them leave, attempted to capture them, but they eluded pursuit. Tomlinson was notified and he in turn called in Patrolman Ralph Stoffer.

The boys were caught, and the patrolman personally supervised their work in cleaning up the store.

ARMY AVIATOR HEADING NORTH

Capt. Eaker Attempts Dawn To Dusk Flight from Panama To Brownsville

Colon, Canal Zone, March 18.—Capt. Ira C. Eaker hopped off from France field at 4 a. m. today on his return "dawn to dusk" flight attempt to the United States.

When he took off this morning he said he hoped to accomplish on his return flight what he failed to do on his southerly trip when bad weather conditions forced him down at Managua.

Capt. Eaker declared he expected to reach Brownsville, Texas, before dusk and if conditions were favorable, he would continue onward from there to San Diego, Cal.

Flying weather this morning was perfect. Several hundred persons assembled at the field to witness the take-off of the famous army flyer.

His speedy plane took off without difficulty and soon was lost to sight in the semi-darkness.

ORRVILLE MEN FACING PRISON IN HORST CASE

Jury Returns Verdict of Guilt In Child Stealing Case

DEFER SENTENCE FOR NEW TRIAL

Elias Arnold Denies Any Connection With Disappearance

Wooster, Mar. 18.—Elias and Arthur Arnold—33-year-old father and 17-year-old son—convicted by a jury of seven men and five women of "child stealing" charges in connection with the disappearance of four-year-old Melvin Horst, languished behind the bars in city prison here today awaiting the filing of a motion for a new trial and the hearing of that motion.

Imposition of sentence was deferred by Judge A. Starn, who announced that he would allow the defense attorneys three days in which to file the motion for a new trial.

The Arnolds face a 1-to-20-year sentence because of the guilty verdict returned by the jury after seven hours of deliberation Saturday.

If the Arnolds are sentenced they will be separated. The father will be ordered confined in the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus and the son will be committed to the Mansfield reformatory.

Elias Arnold, in an interview just before the jurors returned their verdict, declared, "to think that I'd hain't a baby! My God, I'm a man who loves babies."

"If I live to be a hundred years old I'm going to attempt to find out who brought all this about."

The old man was steadfast in assertions that the case was "a frame-up."

A. D. Metz, attorney for the Arnolds, announced he would file the new trial motion either today or tomorrow.

Several rumors regarding the whereabouts of Melvin, who disappeared from the streets of Orrville on the night of Dec. 27, never to be heard from or seen again, have circulated around the city here today, but each one was proved to be false.

Ora Slater, famed Cincinnati sleuth, who is heading the search for the lad, said he would devote his entire time to a hunt for the missing boy, who is now believed dead.

HEFLIN CLAIMS THREAT ON LIFE

Fiery Senator Target Jeers and Missiles On Sunday

Brockton, Mass., March 18.—United States Senator Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, a target on St. Patrick's day of jeers, pebbles, small stones and mud, was in seclusion today preparatory to delivering another Ku Klux Klan address tonight.

His disappearance at the conclusion of his first address here on St. Patrick's day was accompanied by hoots and jeers from a small crowd outside the hall where he spoke and the rattle of pebbles and small stones against the building.

During his address, Senator Hefflin said that threats that he would be killed had reached his ears. He was unafraid, he said, but he warned of the consequences.

"I'm risking my life in a cause I believe in," he declared. "I'm willing to die for it if need be. But if any cowardly assassin should strike me down, there would be some interesting reading in the newspapers the next night or ten days."

"I'm not the only senator who would go. Others would have to pay." He had in his possession, he said, a letter signed by 37 men of prominence in the fraternal organizations, promising if he was killed to avenge his death.

Bill Increasing Gasoline Tax Finds Favor At Ohio Capital

Van Fossan Tells of Progress of Measure; Would Provide $1,500,000 More For Use In Road Building; April Adjournment Expected

Lisbon, March 18.—"Only a small amount of opposition has developed against the passage of the Sullivan measure that provides for an additional tax of one cent per gallon gasoline," declared State Representative W. H. Van Fossan before his return to Columbus today. "And this mild opposition has come from the larger cities, such as Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati."

A joint committee has been selected to call upon Gov. Myers Y. Cooper to enlist his support to this measure, Van Fossan declared. The committee will urge especially that provision of the bill which would provide $1,500,000 or more to be distributed to the townships of the state and used exclusively for improving township roads.

This fund would be expended under the control of the township trustees. A second request will also be made of Governor Cooper to favor in the construction and improvement of the secondary roads a decided reduction in the percentage of special assessment on abutting property now permitted by existing law. At the present time anywhere from nothing to nearly 100 per cent may be assessed against the property owners. Mr. Van Fossan has been made a member of the committee that is to interview Governor Cooper on these questions.

John Kerr of Yellow Creek township, president of the Columbiana County Association of Township Trustees met with the representatives of the state association at the Neil House, Columbus, last Thursday, and a committee from this association attended the public hearing held on the Sullivan bill.

The association has gone on record as favoring the additional one-cent gas tax.

House Bill No. 12, presented by Van Fossan, which has passed both houses of the legislature without opposition has been signed by Governor Cooper.

This measure provides that wherever a municipal court has superseded a court of the justice of the peace, the municipal court shall fill vacancies on the board of township trustees. This measure will become effective within 90 days.

"Both branches of the legislature are speeding up their work, and it is very likely that an adjournment will be taken in April, although no definite date has been determined upon," Van Fossan said.

INVESTIGATORS CHECK REASON IN PLANE CRASH

Thirteen Killed When Big Ship Plunges To Ground

MOTOR FAILURE THOUGHT CAUSE

Statements of Two Men Surviving Wreck Conflict

BULLETIN

Newark, N. J., Mar. 18.—The toll of lives in the crash of the tri-motored Ford sightseeing plane here yesterday amounted to 14 today when Belmont Parsons, of Brooklyn, one of the two men who were not killed instantly, died in St. James hospital.

The only other survivor, Lou Foote, pilot of the big ship, is in a critical condition.

Newark, N. J., Mar. 18.—Pilot Lou Foote and Belmont Parsons, only survivors of the air crash here yesterday that took a toll of 13 lives were reported in a critical condition at St. James hospital today.

While the two men were fighting for their lives in the hospital, municipal and airport authorities were launching a rigid investigation to determine the causes of the crash, which flying men characterize as "the worst accident in the airplane history" of this country.

Today, the investigators were to go again to the scene of the accident, for what additional facts they can gather. What investigators particularly want to know is:

Whether, as some spectators and field habites said, the motors of the great plane had been functioning improperly on its trip preceding the fatal take-off.

Whether it was only the port plane which had been acting badly on a former trip made Sunday or whether two of the engines were in bad shape.

What was the exact condition of the 12,000-pound ship after it had been badly buffeted Saturday while aloft with 14 passengers; it had landed then only after the pilot had circled the field several times in a 60-mile gale.

Statements Vary

In moments of consciousness following yesterday's accident, Pilot Foote mumbled repeatedly, "They quit on me." Parsons, his friend, on the other hand, said, "the right motor stopped and we went right down."

Officials of the Colonial Western airways, owners of the plane, held a conference this morning and subsequently announced they were unable to ascribe a definite reason for the crash.

The plane—a tri-motored Ford—was in perfect condition, according to Edwin Weatherdon, its regular pilot, and in addition to being inspected in the early morning, had been looked over by mechanics after each of five trips preceding the fatal one.

Foote, the pilot, has had 10 years of flying experience, his air career dating back to the war. He is a graduate of the Ford aviation school at Detroit and has studied the Ford plane in process of construction as well as having experience in testing and flying it.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT GRANTED

Judge Approves Action To Gain Freedom For Vogelhuber

Lisbon, March 18.—A habeas corpus writ for the release of Sam Vogelhuber, alleged Salem bootlegger, being held in Salem city jail for nonpayment of $500 fine imposed for a liquor violation by Mayor Phil G. Hiddeson last year, was granted by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones here, Saturday.

The application for the writ was filed by George Vogelhuber, brother of the prisoner, through Atty. Homer H. Hickling, counsel for the defense, and will be effected tomorrow.

The application for Vogelhuber's release was made on the basis that the city liquor ordinance, under which he was found guilty on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquors, last October, was illegal at that time.

Vogelhuber has been held in city jail since March 5. In default of the payment of the fine, and was recently arraigned on a charge of violating the Crabble act for the third time. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Mayor Hiddeson, and was released on $3,500 bond.

Bond was allowed at the county seat, Vogelhuber being re-arrested at the entrance to the court house and was brought to Salem pending payment of the old fine.

Passing Of Hetrodyne Shrieks Predicted By Federal Expert

Washington, March 18.—Complete elimination of vexatious heterodyne shrieks from America's millions of radio-speakers was promised today by engineering experts of the federal radio commission.

Regulations prepared for submission to the commission provide that broadcasting stations which deviate more than 50 cycles from their assigned frequencies will be barred from the air. The present rule requires that stations remain within 500 cycles of the wave.

Until the filling of the two vacancies on the commission by President Hoover, no action will be taken on the new regulations. The three members now functioning have studied the plan and are said to feel that it would be helpful in eliminating one of the listeners' worst trials.

Heterodyning is present on 50 of the 90 channels employed by broadcasters. On the 40 cleared channels there is interference between stations not on the same channel, known as "cross talk," but no heterodyning.

Under present regulations a station sets up heterodyne interference with broadcasters on the same channel, ten times the distance within which its program may be picked up by receiving sets. Thus nine-tenths of the trouble caused by local and regional stations would be eliminated and a vast improvement made in reception.

MRS. COOLIDGE AND THE SIMPLE LIFE

It is safe to say that no "First Lady of the Land" ever made a better impression on the people of the land as a whole than Mrs. Grace Coolidge. It is a question if any ever made so good. Always pleasant, gracious, charming—she proved a splendid foil to her distinguished husband, who studied silence as an art and made of it a weapon during their stay of almost six years in the White House.

We can not recall of Mrs. Coolidge ever having talked for publication during her eight years' residence in Washington, and she has done precious little since the 4th of the present month, but she has let drop certain little hints—which should heighten the high admiration and esteem in which she is held by all. She has let it be known, what all of us long ago should have realized, that life in the White House, while far more spectacular, lacks much of the appeal of life in a private home, where a wife may be her natural self and not the player of an official part; that the White House life, with its many restrictions, and by precedent, has not the charm of freedom which may be enjoyed by the housewife in civil life among friends and neighbors. And she has let drop a hint or two that the simpler life has greater appeal to her because she loves the simpler things of life as she could never leave its artificialities, and she can't understand why there is so great an inclination on every side to overlook the beauties of the simpler life for the artificial life so many seek and, in the seeking, spend more than they can afford.

Coming from such quarters, such views would not carry weight, but coming from one who has held the place Mrs. Coolidge has, such views, even though they may be conveyed only by occasional hints, should make an impression on a people who for years have been engaged in an orgy of extravagant expenditure.

Honestly, as much as we admired Mrs. Coolidge as the wife of the president, we admire her still more as the wife of Calvin Coolidge, private citizen.

What Others Say

WE LAG IN CLEANLINESS

We are rather proud, here in America, of our progress in sanitation. When it comes to plumbing and kindred matters we plume ourselves on our advance. We rather pity Europe.

But in one phase of this cult of cleanliness we are years behind some cities of Europe. There is no standard container for ashes and the other refuse that we must be rid of. Any old thing is good enough. Old boxes, baskets and cans stand for hours in the streets, uncovered, while the wind does with the contents what it will. Along comes the wagon. The loaders dump the contents of the containers in. This gives the wind another excellent chance. The uncovered wagon moves slowly on to the next step, leaving a trail of blown paper and refuse of all description, while the air is filled with ashes, particles of dust and enough microbes, probably, to start a little encouragement, a terrifying plague.

They do these things better in Europe. For instance, in Vienna every house is equipped with especially constructed garbage cans. These cans have swinging covers which snap to automatically. They are specially constructed for the wagons which collect their contents. These wagons also are covered and have openings into which the tops of the cans fit. The cans are emptied without the last dust or dirt escaping. Vienna is clean.

Here the street, after the garbage collectors have passed, is a disgrace. The scavengers seem, impossible though it is, to leave more dirt blowing about than they collect.

While the city holds to this antiquated system a lot of the money now expended on health services is just being thrown away.—Philadelphia Record.

MEXICO

Portes Gil that general Escobar's troops were beating a hasty retreat towards Jimenez, Chihuahua.

General Almazan also telegraphed the president that the vanguard of his troops had actually penetrated the outskirts of Torreon and had met with no resistance. Almazan declared, however, that he held back his troops until he could find out whether the roads leading into the city were mined or not.

Conflicting claims of the opposing forces obscured the true situation existing in Mexico today.

Reports Conflict

While the federal government was declaring that Gen. J. Gonzalo Escobar's rebel forces were in full retreat, leaders of the rebellion claimed a decisive victory east at San Pedro, Coahuila.

President Portes Gil announced the receipt of a message from Gen. Juan Andres Almazan in which the latter told of entering the outskirts of Torreon without encountering opposition.

Opposed to this was a statement from the rebel headquarters in Nogales, Sonora, to the effect that the federals were badly beaten in a battle at San Pedro. This statement also declared that about 300 federal troops were captured and brought back to Torreon. The rebels claimed the federals suffered the majority of 200 casualties reported in the battle.

In Mexico City a clash was reported east of Torreon. The government version, however, was vague. The report lacked in detail treated the clash as minor.

El Paso, Tex., March 18.—Rebel agents claimed today that a federal airplane, which was engaged in scouting operations over the Torreon district, had been shot down by Gen. Jose Escobar's insurgent forces. According to this same source, the pilot of the plane was killed.

SLEEP NECESSARY TO HEALTH AND SUCCESS

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

(United States Senator from New York)

Leaving sleep is too common a practice. It is just as necessary to renew the nervous and muscular energy of the body as it is to refuel a gasoline engine.

A few weeks ago the country had its interests centered on the "Question Mark".

This aeroplane was attempting a long endurance flight, seeking to stay in the air the longest possible time. As a matter of fact, it did break the record, remaining in flight more than 150 hours.

The problem was how to get the necessary gasoline. To solve this two methods were used. The first was to increase the tank capacity. This was done by cutting down the passenger and cargo carrying space.

The second method was to fuel in the air. They succeeded in having other planes approach the "Question Mark" and transfer quantities of gasoline.

By these means this aeroplane broke the endurance record. But similar methods for man, proposing to increase his endurance and to permit him to stay on his feet day after day, without intervening sleep—such methods are beyond reason.

There is no need of applying the question mark to this statement. It just can't be done.

There can be no doubt that long accustomed habit has much to do with the sleep requirements of a given individual. In the country, where I was born, everybody went to bed at 9 o'clock. For persons who have practiced early retiring all their lives, it is almost impossible to stay awake until 11 o'clock or midnight. They have become "set" to the need of nine or ten hours of sleep.

"City folks," who habitually stay up to midnight or later, appear to thrive on a lesser number of hours of sleep. But there are few adults who can feel well and be happy without at least eight hours.

It is possible that regularity in observing the determined upon sleeping period is of chief importance. Your own feelings after a wakeful night or a night shortened by a prolonged celebration must prove to you the importance of abundant sleep.

Tired nerves and muscles are bound to rebel against being robbed of the fueling period. You must give them time to store up energy and strength. It is sleep alone that can accomplish that.

This is an age when we hear a lot about "efficiency." I'm not so sure we should be crazy over this subject, but, of course, everybody should strive to do his job, whatever it is, just as well as possible. You cannot hope to have perfect health unless you observe the rules of hygiene. One of the most important of these rules is to have regular, restful, ample sleep.

REV. B. E. RUTZKY

Emmanuel Lutheran Church
At the confirmation Sunday morning at Emmanuel Lutheran church, Rev. B. E. Rutzky, the pastor, spoke in part as follows:
"Having heard John the Baptist the two disciples followed Jesus. The preparatory work had been done for them, they were instructed where and how to find Jesus. The Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world had even been pointed out to them. With you confirmation work likewise has been done at home, in school and in catechism class, your Christian consciousness has been awakened, you have been directed to Jesus, the Lamb of God, and now you have come near to Him on your own accord. The disciples followed Jesus until He graciously notices their coming and speaks to them.

"What seek ye? He turns to speak to them, this is not just a haphazard meeting or a casual remark in passing, but Jesus turns to them. His divine presence and His gracious word is given to them and to them only at this time.

"Not whom seek ye. It was evident that they sought Him, but now having come near to Him what are they expecting to find? This question compels them to look searchingly into their hearts for secret desires and yearnings; it also calls upon them to see clearly what according to the Scriptures the Messiah is willing and ready to give if they would but accept.

"Many are not seeking in Jesus what they should, many are seeking in Him what they should not. Proud seeking of self, seeking of ease in Zion, worldly ambitions even in churchly matters, are these some of the things which you are seeking?

"Many are asking today where to find Jesus, there is going on an amazing quest of Christian doctrines.

"The place of God's habitation is His house, the Place, where His honor dwelleth. Christ is ever waiting to be found in His Word and Sacraments, and there means of grace He has entrusted to His church on earth. Blessed are they that dwell in Thy house, passing through the valley of weeping they seek it a place of springs; they go forth strength to strength, every one that appeareth before God in Zion. In His church Christ abides, it is not only a temporary abode, but at all times He is to be found in His word and sacraments. You may not understand that with your reason, therefore Christ invites you to."

High Points In Sermons Of Salem Pastors On Sunday

REV. A. C. WESTPHAL

Baptist Church

"The World war was a great battle. The whole world knew about it. Soldiers became great, armies became great, nations became great. Volumes were written, much publicity was given. Within every soldier's bosom was a battle raging. Could he afford to kill, could he afford not to? Would his courage fail him at the zero hour? The battle raged within. This war is over. Another continual battle rages, but it is a blind battle. No books are written about it. The press does not proclaim it. No incunements are erected to those who win. It is the battle of the man with God. Acts 23:39 says, 'Let us not fight against God.'"

First, the passive individual, is fighting a blind battle. He does not fight against God, he thinks, but God says, 'He that is not for me is against me.' Did you ever see a passive bicycle rider? He must fall if he becomes passive, and quits going. You can't stand still on it. Did you ever see a passive aviator? When he stops his motor, he comes down. You may be passive, but if you are, you are fighting a blind battle against God.

Second, the procrastinator is fighting against God. He admits that he ought to live for God, but puts it off. I wonder how many have stood before God to have it said, one day, one week, one month too late.

Besides these, there are the obstinate, the excuse makers, the self righteous, and a host of others, who are in the Blind Battle, fighting against God.

Good news! Water need no longer be hard, even in this hard-water country. Scum need no longer form in the bathtub! Dirty rings need no longer be scrubbed from tubs, dishpans or wash-basins!

Use Melo to soften hard water! It prevents the forming of the dirty ring. It makes water delightfully soft. It saves from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount of soap ordinarily used. It makes soap much more effective. With or without soap, water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner. Get it at your grocer's.

"For a life of trust in God, the life of Jesus stands supreme. His trust in God caused derision from his tormentors. They laughed Him to scorn, because He was in their hands for punishment.

"Jesus trusted when the dangers of life were many and severe. No storm or tempest could shake His firm trust in the Father in heaven, who had sent Him into the world. Jesus trusted in the assurance of the future of His Kingdom. He looked to the future centuries and forgot the trembling beginnings of His Kingdom. Jesus trusted God in the last dark valley. The sun was darkened. The earth quivered. The skies flashed with anger. Still He trusted. Only the Divine Son of God could have trusted so much.

"The spectators who gazed upon Jesus at the cross, considered His trust in God of no avail. They called ing at the Christian church. He spoke as follows:

"After betraying Jesus, Peter repented and then was told he would suffer death. Peter then said, 'Lord and what shall this man do?' He was asking about another disciple and it is the same way with us. We are always interested in what others are going to do.

"Peter was not afraid but he thought that John was more able to do the work than he was. Jesus answered, 'What is that to you, you follow Me.' Many people say they won't join a certain church because the members don't believe as they do. Jesus would say it doesn't mat-

The EASTER PARADE

Will Take Place On March 31st

PERHAPS there was a time when you regarded dry-cleaning as a make-shift — an excuse — a substitute for smartness.

Today, you need have no such feeling! A dress — a coat — a suit — refreshed by Wark's, is newness itself!

Our improved dry-cleaning process brings back the sheen and sparkle — revives the looks and "feel" of any fabric. Silks regain their lustre. Colors regain their brightness and snap. Stains and wear signs vanish! Cloth goods acquire softness of nap — they are pleasant to the touch — they have "life" and freshness.

Before you buy any new apparel this spring — let us bring back wearability and respectability to your present clothes. Your clothes budget will then realize new possibilities.

Send Your Work
EARLY — Please!

The next two weeks are the peak season for the whole dry-cleaning industry. Give us all the time possible to do quality work.

district this morning, but at a much lower stage than a day or two ago. Wooden dwellings were cracked in like egg shells. Many homes have been carried along several blocks from where they originally stood. Others had been transformed into driftwood. Some were carried down the river a mile or more.

A few of the homes on the high hills parts of the town were intact and people were living in them as if nothing had happened.

Nearly all the victims had been taken out of the stricken city today. They were removed from their floating homes to shore by the national guardmen and volunteers. Some were taken to nearby farm houses and to the cities of Troy, Opp, Enterprise, Ozark and Dehan.

When the International News Service correspondent entered Elba early in the morning the city was in darkness, for the power plant had been put out of commission. Men were sleeping on the floors, in the tents, and in automobiles on the roads.

Women and children were asleep, six and seven in a row, in some of the homes located on high ground and out of danger.

Residents Removed
Most of the residents, however, had been taken away to distant towns. Candles and lamps were the only means of illumination. Daylight revealed the state of mind of many of the refugees to be that of great anxiety. They stood on high ground and looked across the river, wondering what had happened to members of their families.

The bridge connecting the east and west sections of the city had been washed away and it was virtually impossible to cross by boat over the swirling waters.

The courthouse seemed to be intact, and the spires of the First Baptist and the First Methodist churches stuck up out of the water. The Garrett hotel was a wreck. The May building was badly damaged and about half of the homes were off their foundations. Fully one-third of the buildings were completely demolished.

Six City League Contests Close Regular Season This Week

Three Teams In Battle For Titular Honors As Loop Enters Final Lap

With three teams staging a spectacular battle for titular honors, the Salem city basketball league will close its regular season this week. Six games, three for Tuesday, two on Wednesday, and the final on Friday, round out the competition, which is declared the hottest and most sensational in this city's cage history.

The Salem Business College, holding the top berth with four consecutive victories, clashes with a pair of tough opponents in its two games, slated for Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The Junior Saxons, cellar champs of the first half, but who came to the front through the addition of two new players, play three games, and the United Cigars, the third of the main contenders will appear in action twice.

One of these teams, in all probability, will be eliminated entirely from the race, while the Business College, which has been playing the best ball in the loop, has an opportunity to clinch its honors, and meet the Seiberling Tires, opening half title-holders for the championship, by coming through on top in both its games.

Church League Games

Two church league games will be played tonight. In the opener the Kiwanis club meets the Trinity Lutheran, and the First Methodists, winners of the first half, clash with the St. Paul's Catholics in the second.

Three tilts are carded for tomorrow night in the big loop, but probably only two will be played, as the Printz club, billed against the Electric Furnace in the third, has put in its appearance for only half of its scheduled games.

The deflated Seiberling Tires and McArthur Florists battled for all-around honors in Tuesday's opener, neither team having a chance to take first place. The Tires have been in an atrocious slump in the

New York.—Despite the fact that the St. Louis Browns jumped from the depths of the second division to third place last year, several of the players who participated in the team's spurt are not sure of their jobs this season. There is plenty of room for new talent in the pitching staff, and indications are that one new outfielder, at least one new infielder and a rookie catcher will break into the lineup.

WASHINGTONVILLE

Miss Bernice DeJane was hostess to the members of the Loyol Twelve class of the Methodist Sunday school on Thursday evening at a St. Patrick's day party. A short business session was held after which music and contests were diversions of the evening. Contest honors were won by Misses Eunice Stouffer, Vera Vaughn and Mrs. Lynn DeJane. Invited guests were Dorothy Eyster, Madeline Dunn, Mrs. Vance Atkinson and Mrs. Lynn DeJane. A tray lunch was served with St. Patrick's appointments. Miss Mary E. King invited the class to her home next month.

Mrs. Oreh McClun, Mrs. August Mathey and Mrs. Emma Stouffer were guests Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. McClun's sister, Mrs. Wm. Anglemeyer at Leontonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Grindle and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Paisley of Leontonia, attended the funeral of E. Miller at Mineral City on Friday.

Mr. Miller was the husband of Miss Minnie Brain, a resident of this place a number of years ago.

PROMINENT LOCAL BROKER PRAISES OWA-TON-NA

Indigestion, Headaches and Dizzy Spells Disappear With the Use of This Popular Treatment

Sufferers from severe attacks of indigestion, headaches, dizzy spells, rundown worn out condition, will find in the advice of Mr. Wm. W. Chambers, 1631 Elm Street, Youngstown, news which will be welcome to eager health seekers. Mr. Chambers, while probably not in apparent real ill-health, has been bearing a condition similar to thousands of other people who feel that this condition is a natural one, little knowing that it is but the beginning of more severe trouble.

"I had no pep or energy and it seems as though I just had to drive myself to do my work. My kidneys haven't been acting normally and all in all I was far from being in good condition. Hearing so much about Owa-Ton-Na, I thought I would give it a trial and I must say that it certainly does all that is claimed of it."

"Almost from the first dose I could see a big change in my condition. I knew that the harmful poisons were being eliminated from my system. My appetite started to pick up, food tasted good to me and I was not troubled with indigestion. My energy has returned and I now go about my work feeling like my former self. Bowels are acting regularly and my kidneys are functioning normally."

MR. WM. W. CHAMBERS

"I am feeling more like myself than I have for a long time. Anyone who needs a real good tonic, something that will tone up the stomach, liver and kidneys and promote normal elimination, should use Owa-Ton-Na as it certainly does all that is claimed for it."

This is but one of many cases who praise the value of this fine old Indian remedy.

You, too, even though you have become discouraged, should give Owa-Ton-Na a trial and it is certainly worth that to anyone who suffers. Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at Fieding's, J. H. Leese and Buget & French drug stores.—Adv.

Quaker City Tossers Forced To Limit In German Loop Contest

Salem Saxons tightened their hold on second place in the Penn-Ohio German league, by winning a 35-25 decision over Lorain, in a hard-fought battle at Memorial gym, Saturday night.

For three quarters the contest was nip and tuck, Lorain holding a one-point lead at the end of the half, but slackened down in the third session, when Salem forged ahead to a five-point lead. In the final quarter the Quaker City tossers had everything their own way and won out easily.

Lorain, rated as the best passing team in the circuit, held the upper hand by a wide margin in the early periods, but was unable to count baskets. Most of Salem's points came via the free throw line in the first two quarters, when the team played haphazard, mediocre ball.

Salem Outplayed

Lorain continually passed through Salem's defense, to get easy, pot-shots at the basket, but missed numerous attempts that should have counted for scores. Salem, too, was off color in shooting, but failed to get the great number of open shots Lorain had.

The score at the end of the quarter stood 6-all, Dobras caging all of the visitors' counters, while Klees connected for a foul and basket, and Pete Sanders for another gratis shot for Salem's total. The count zig-zagged back and forth in the next quarter. Lorain, through two straight baskets by Mowery, leading 15-14, Mowery, during the second period, caged three field buckets and a foul.

The Lorain center started scoring in the third quarter, looping the leather through from the middle and Reiss, added a goal from the foul line. Sanders started a rally that led the Saxons to victory, whizzing in two sensational long shots. Filp knotted the count with a free throw, and Sanders looped in another long shot, to place Salem in the lead, 21-19.

Strong Finish

From then on Salem indulged in a rapid-fire scoring spree that Lorain was unable to stop. The majority of Salem's points came from the middle of the floor, the entire team seeming to have suddenly found their shooting optics, and annexed 21 points to Lorain's 19 in the last two quarters.

Sanders and Filp shared scoring honors for Salem, each getting nine points, while Mowery, the outstanding player of the game, looped in five fielders and a foul for high-point honors.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

"BEHIND THE GERMAN LINES"
Action pictures of the famous Baron Manfred von Richthofen, the "Red Knight of Germany," who has been heralded as one of the outstanding individuals produced by the World War, may be seen in "Behind the German Lines," the official motion picture history of Germany's participation in the conflict. Richthofen, it will be recalled, was the German ace who downed some eighty-five enemy planes before he was himself shot down by Captain Roy Brown of the Canadian Air Force.

The official war pictures have been hailed as the most interesting pictorial history of the war ever shown in this country. The UFA company of Germany was assigned the duty of filming the war on all the fronts by the then Imperial German government and over one hundred cameramen followed the German troops in action, of which number over one-fourth were killed. Of particular note is the lack of animosity in the pictures. It is simply a cool reporting of what took place from the German point of view, and a subtle message for international amity may be easily discovered in the unrelenting of the scenes.

The picture shows the very first days of the war with all Europe trembling itself for the four long years of hardship. The first battle of the Marne, supplemented by an animated map is graphically shown, and the reason for the defeat at the very gates of Paris is given. Other battles on all fronts quickly follow, ending with the final rout of the German army by the concentrated drive of the Allied forces in the fall of 1918.

The pictures are released in this country by Paramount, and will be the feature attraction at the Grand four days this week.

portrayed and the plot furnishes considerable food for thought on the subject of companionate marriage.

Miss Griffith is surrounded by an exceptionally able cast, including Grant Withers, Charles Lane, Anne Schaeffer, Albert Conti, Marcia Harris, Alma Tell and Lucien Littlefield.
